Japan may develop its own missile on its own technology sensors and guidance systems before beginning the actual development of the missile.

In 1985, Japan's Defense Agency announced that it would develop a surface-to-air missile with a range of 20 kilometers and a speed of Mach 2. The project is estimated to cost 110 billion yen (about $1.1 billion).

The new missile system is the next-generation jet fighter, the FSX, it said. Last year, Japan and the United States agreed that they would jointly develop the new missile system.

"Peking Opera Classics," a four-part videotape program, being produced by the Chinese Affairs Commission, seeks to promote Chinese traditional opera abroad. Each series bearing Chinese and English subtitles will run for one hour.

Popular Peking opera singer Kuo Hsiao-chuang has been commissioned to carry out the film project. The founder of the Ya En Ensemble personally emceed the educational series.

The videotapes are four simple or Flore Scatter Nu San Monke

Château Lascombes 1982

Château Lascombes exerts in finesse. It possesses a round and spicy bouquet which has connotative appeal. While its ripe tannins underline the characters of the cru wines. It is a great year to visit Château Lascombes. The fruit is rich and juicy and it produces itself in various fruits.
